LANGUAGE OF FLOWERS.

"In Eastern lands they talk of flowers,
And this is to a garden their love and care

Each flower that blooms in their garden bears
On its leaves a mystic language bears."

—Percival.

The pretty rose is an emblem of love,
The snowball, thoughts of heaven above,
The honeysuckle implies I dream of thee,
And rosemary, always, remember me.

Aster denotes unchanging friendship;
My only hope the American cowslip;
Declare your love, says the tulip tree,
And juniper signifies, I live for thee.

Gloxinia tells of love at first sight
Sweet peas say meet me by moonlight
Pansies indicate a heavy heart;
Variegated pink, forever we part.

Let us part, friends, take the trumpet flower;
Primrose answers, your friends for an hour;
Pinks bloom says keep your word,
And rose geranium, thus we preferred.

Apple blossoms ask, will you be mine?
Peach blossom replies, my heart is thine,
The dandelion is a gay coquette,
And anemone dwells with the white violet.

Sweet William asks, will you be my friend;
Savory sage signifies, I'm not a summer friend;
Balloons wish to please and make up,
But ingratitude dwells in the bright buttercup.

A laurel wreath signifies, I'm the victor's crown;
Woodbine's chorus, I have loved thee long;
The line that with love's first notes,
And anemone implies, my devotion.

Pansies say, your presence soothes me;
Iris plant replies, your love is true;
White rose whispers, my heart is free,
And white clover, ever yours to be.

Sensitive rose, like a pretty coquette,
Says, too young to love my mother yet,
Mine through sunshine, storm and snow,
Is written all over the perpetual rose.

Blue iris brings a message for you,
Forget-me-not denotes love tender and true;
Blue violet is faithful love, heart's grief;
And, as for the happy in religious belief.

Our souls are one, says the beautiful poppy;
Concealment abides with pretty sweet bell;
Of love in a cottage porch and bell,
And gratitude is found in Canterbury bell.

True friendship is found in Virginia stock,
Ambition sits high in the bright hollyhock,
Companion stands the bleeding heart;
And acacia tree says, must you depart?

Roses are pressed by the morning glory;
Nobility of character by magnolia grandifolia;
The amaranth denotes everlasting love,
And anemone signifies, my heart is true.

We find fascination always in fern,
Sympathy in fern, and love in lucerne,
Thus gains a wreath of love and grace below,
And the willow of his heart in flowers.

A MAN'S SPEECH.

BY ANGE DOLORES.

"Houses and lands are gone for aye,
Kith and kin like the wild winds flee;
Life and breath had fluttered away,
But for the hand I loved so dearly."

—Booey Tree.

Guy Westcott sat on the sofa, idly perusing the morning paper, and ever and anon his eyes betrayed a look of anxiety.

He was a handsome young man, about twenty years of age, and besides his usual sketching a sculptured

A handsome brunette in a pretty house dress of black and scarlet, with a knot of scarlet ribbons at her throat and in her coronal of black hair, had just entered the parlor.

"Shall we congratulate you, Sophy?" asked Bertie, looking up from his Clys.

Sophy Ames shook her head with a little shrug that was meant to express unanswerable pity for the refused lover, who, departing from every other then were heard on the cracking ice of the pavement outside.

"Oh, Sophy! I thought you loved him!" ejaculated Bertie.

A bitter smile for an instant quivered across the girl's proud lips, and then was gone.

"I honor your decision, Sophy," said Guy Westcott, looking up from his paper; "Clement is a true fellow, very handsome, a rising young man, and all that sort of thing; but his parentage is bad—violently bad."

"Would you never marry one of those who have a bad parentage?"

"Not if you loved her?" queried
Bertie, smiling up into her face.

"I could not love her, unless I had been deceived; and, being deceived, my love of course would come to an end."

"But suppose you had married such a one before you knew?" persisted Bertie, who was in the flush of the sweetest romance that has glided all our lives till twenty.

"The knowledge would be my bane," answered Sophy. "We could both be miserable, and undoubtedly come to hate each other, and eventually separate."

Bertie looked indignantly shocked.

"I suppose I" she began.

"There, there, pet," he interrupted her, putting his soft, shapely hand on her head, "you are all devoted to me. You have come of a race proud and pure as my own, and I shall love you always!"

Sophy Ames standing at the window, had heard it all. Her eyes were blazing, and her nervous fingers had torn, one by one, the scarlet tulle from her hair, and were scattering them in fragrant fragments over the velvet carpet. She was thinking of the few days by a summer sea when Guy Westcott had whispered to her sweet nothing on the moonlighted beach, and her seraphic cousin
Bertie had come to spoil her dream.

She had deemed him then more than half her lover; and yet—ah, well! in the laughing watching eyes of his new love, he could speak of the past as but the idle pleasures of an hour.

"How is auntie?" she asked, crowding down her agitation, and turning quietly enough toward Bertie and her lover.

"Oh, mamma is much better. She says she will be quite well to-morrow."

The words had scarcely left her lips, when the door opened suddenly, a servant, with a white scarred face, summoned Bertie hurriedly to the chamber of the rich, aristocratic and famous Mrs. Sheldon.

THE SOUTH KENTUCKIAN.

CHAS. M. MEACHAM, EDITOR.

HOPKINSVILLE, FEB. 13, 1881.

Yesterday was the day for the birds to mate.

"I am in-sine, spare my life, as Col. Buford would say," remarked the fish when caught in the net.

Some people read an editor's paragraphs as carefully as if it didn't snatch him bald-headed to write them.

The train carrying Sara Bernhardt passed Bowling Green last week. The editor of the Gazette says he and she were both on it at the same time.

W. H. Miller, of Henderson county has had his name changed to Lincen Simeon Clark and the Reporter speaks of him as the "late Mr. Miller."

The boy who broke his mother's mirror thought he ought not to be whipped because the Bible says "Blessed is the peacemaker."

The dead lock in the Pennsylvania Senatorial race still continues. Oliver and Grow have both withdrawn and still no one has been elected.

The Frankfort Yeoman pays this well merited compliment to our able Representative, in Congress:

Hon. Jas. A. McKenzie is at his post in Washington in spite of ill health. He is one of the most popular men in Congress.

Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge will deliver an address at Helm Hall, Eminence, Ky., to the Bardonia General Literary Society, of Eminence College Feb. 22nd. As an actor Col. Breckinridge has no equals in Kentucky and but few anywhere.

The Owensboro Messenger & Examiner has a story headed "Love in West Virginia." This story is probably based upon some of the experiences of the Kentucky press gang, ("one of whom this scribe was" which) at White Sulphur Springs last summer.

Stuart and Quisenberry, both editors and candidates for the Legislature in Clark county, are carrying on a bitter personal warfare. Quisenberry was arrested last week and put in jail, on failing to give bond to keep the peace. It they have not already had a personal encounter things point decidedly that way.

The Columbus Times sneeringly calls the editor of this paper "that young Solon," because he does not bow down and worship Oscar Turner. Without meaning to retort in school boy fashion "you're another," we will mildly suggest that those who sent Turner to Congress thinking him a statesman are all "sold nuns."

The long talk of marriage of the Baroness Burdett-Coutts, of London to the young American Ashmead Bartlett took place last Saturday. The bride is 66 and the groom is less than half her age. The latter at the request of his wife will assume the name of Burdett-Coutts.

The result of the investigation of the bribery cases in the Tennessee Legislature is not likely to pan out anything. Thus far Littleton has failed to prove what he claimed to be able to prove and the excitement has about died away.

The votes of the several States for President were counted by Congress in joint session last Wednesday and Garfield officially declared elected President of the United States, for the next four years, beginning March 4, 1881. The electoral vote of Georgia was not counted on the day appointed by law and was therefore thrown out.

The Covington Commonwealth wants the government to make an appropriation for the improvement of the Licking. For the benefit of trembling schoolboys we will explain that the Licking referred to is a river of that name in this State, and not the system of corporal punishment which is one of the stern realities of boyhood.

The Guthrie Gazette tells how a gentleman at that vicinity, mistook the singing of a crowd of serenaders for the warbling of Thomas cats and scattered them with a pole which he threw in the direction of the music. The mistake was discovered, the gentlemen invited into the parlor and in the society of their sweethearts, they soon forgot the cat-astrophe.

The Indiana Legislature is all torn to pieces over a compulsory education bill. It provides that all children shall be sent to school even if the State has to keep up their parents as well as educate the children. It furthermore provides that all children, irrespective of color, shall be educated together. The bill is a pernicious one and is meeting with great opposition from the Democrats as well as many Republicans, but still fears are entertained that it will pass the House.

Doubts have arisen as to the nativity of Vice-President elect Arthur, it having been charged with some show of proof that he was born in Canada and consequently is not a citizen of the United States, which would make him ineligible to the office to which he has been elected. A Senate Committee of investigation has been appointed to look into the matter and if the report is found to be true he cannot assume the office of Vice-President.

STATE NEWS.

Kentucky has 127 newspapers.

Chas. Reed has received the Democratic nomination for Mayor of Paducah.

The Madisonville Times wants Hopkins county people to use shot guns to protect themselves from lightning rod agents.

The Times complains of the bad condition of the plank walks in Madisonville.

The Mountain Sower says H. C. Herndon will shortly begin the publication of a paper at Hazelgreen to be called the Herald.

Two lads living near Louisville, found the corpse of a negro named Lawrence, half buried in a marsh, where he had been for seven weeks.

Three convicts in the penitentiary have cut off fingers to escape labor.

The Banner says a little boy named Frank Thomson was thrown from a horse in Caldwell county and killed.

The Greenbridge News calls Tom Buford the appellate judge eradicator.

A negro named Beard shot another named Jackson in Hancock county last week inflicting a serious wound.

Mrs. Farrell, the Covington Post-mistress made good her son's deficit and will be retained.

Capt. C. T. Allen will be a candidate for re-election to the Legislature, from Caldwell county.

The citizens of New Castle held a meeting protesting against unjust freight discriminations.

A new paper called the Central Courier has just been started at Nicholasville by Saint Owen.

A coal oil lamp explosion caused the wife of S. D. Lewis of Scott county, to be burned to death.

The friends of Henry Grief, of Paducah, have come to grief from his mysterious disappearance.

The Winchester Star, according to the Louisville Post, stole some of its own local items and reproduced them in the State News column clipped without credit from that paper.

The Covington Commonwealth thinks that the special court that granted Buford a new trial "was wholly unsustained by respectable legal opinion."

Wm. Buford, a negro convict working on the Big Sandy Railroad at Owensville attacked a guard with a club breaking his arm in an attempt to escape and was shot dead.

An Ashland man, according to the Express, will fast two weeks. "He will lay on his back and take no nourishment except sweetmilk."

Alex Taylor and J. W. Meacham, editors of the two Fulton papers, the Fultonian and the Index, met in Paducah one day last week and had a fight in the opera house. Meacham, according to the Enterprise, was under the influence of liquor and was the aggressor.

Tom Stuart, in a card in his paper the Democrat, denounces his opponent for the Legislature and contemporary editor, Mr. Quisenberry of the Sun as a "liar and cowardly puppy," and claims that the latter has slandered him time and again in the canvass now being conducted.

Geo. Pieratt and his sister, an aged couple lived alone near Owensville. The sister is an invalid and one day last week the brother fainted and fell into the large old fashion fire place, where a hot fire was burning. She dragged herself to him and pulled him from the fire a corpse and then fainted away. The next morning they were found the sister benumbed and helpless and the cats had been eating the flesh of the corpse of the brother.

The advertising sharpers are abroad in the land and are furnishing some fine contributions to our waste basket. A proposition from one of them to give a $5 liver pad for $15 in advertising was filed therein.

FAIRVIEW.

The early birds catch the worms.

At last two or three bright summer days make one dream of spring.

Our "Town daks," are going to build a lock up, to take care of the unfortunate who are so unlucky as to need their care.

"O winter, wilt thou never go."

"O summer how I weary for thy coming."

The young man who said our town was improving, is dead now.

Ment always has envy snapping and snarling at it.

The more favor you show some folks, the more they expect.

Happy is he who has a large pile of wood and no neighbors to borrow.

"Dillion," correspondent to the Nashville American from this place, says there is some talk of a narrow gauge railroad from this place to Clarksville. Pray who is "Dillion," and where did he get his information.

I am glad to hear that Mrs. J. J. Shaw, who has been quite ill, is improving and that there is a probability of her getting well.

"Dillion" says "tobacco opens up flat," that's the first I had heard of it, thanks Mr. D. for the information.

Mr. Editor, I echo every word you said about the Buford trial. My opinion is that such trials are only making a farce of justice, and the sooner the people and the press speak their sentiments about such the safer will be a man's life.

I regret very much to hear of the serious illness of Miss Binnie Wilkins, who has been quite sick for some time. I understand that her recovery is doubtful.

Jams are ripening in this section. H. B. Gray returned home to his many friends after spending a month or six weeks visiting Louisville, Cincinnati, New York and Nashville, on business. Harry is one of the jolly boys of our town and we felt his absence greatly.

The farmers are busy stripping and prizing tobacco in this section of country. The crop is rather small, but of a superior quality.

GENERAL NEWS.

Garfield will be inaugurated on "hugman's day" Friday.

148 deaths from small-pox were reported in New York city on the 8th.

Mrs. J. E. Nicholls jumped into a well and suicided at St. Louis.

Small-pox is raging in New Jersey to an alarming extent.

U. S. Senator elect Jackson of Tennessee has resigned his seat in the State Legislature.

A railroad bridge is to be built over the Ohio river at Henderson or Evansville sometimes during the present year.

The local option bill has been defeated in the Ohio Legislature.

A destructive tornado swept over New Orleans Thursday blowing down the Palmetto Hotel among other buildings.

Jas. N. Edwards shot and killed Jas. Chapman, at Paris, Tenn., for attempting to beehieve his wife. The lady reported the improper proposal, to her husband.

Four murderers will dangle from the end of a rope at Santa Fe, N. M. on the 23d inst.

A lad 15 years' hung himself at Milwaukee to escape a lashing for having stolen $5 from his father.

Peter Pelekey a murderer was hanged at Helena, Mont., on the 6th inst. He murdered and robbed his employer, named Lacke, of a large sum of money.

A boy who is believed to be the veritable long lost Charlie Ross has been found at Ontario Can. He remembers being abducted by two men while he was playing the streets of a large city, and placed in a tribe of Tuscarora Indians until he escaped, recently, and is now living with a man named Bond. He is about thirteen years old and is a flaxen haired gawky youth about four feet tall.

J. A. Coleman a prominent lawyer and Chas. H. Lucas and wife of Evansville entered into a plot to defraud an insurance company. Lucas was to fall over board a steamer, to be drowned apparently, to swim ashore in reality and get a large amount of insurance money. The plot was carried out but the insurance companies investigated before paying the money and the game was detected and all hands arrested.

Cheap Excursion to New Orleans.

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad will sell round-trip tickets from Hopkinsville to New Orleans, commencing February 19th and continuing until February 27th, at the extremely low rate of $21.00. Tickets are good returning until March 1st.

Now is your opportunity to witness the great "Mardi Gras Carnival," on which New Orleans will this year expend a fabulous amount of money, and present a series of parades, pageants and entertainments never equalled in splendor and attractiveness in this country. The "Carnival" opens with a grand military parade February 22d, in which a large number of visiting organizations participate, followed February 24th by a street parade of the "Knights of Momus," February 25th, arrival and reception of His Majesty, Rex; March 1st, Mardi Gras—magnificent day pageant of the King of the Carnival, Phony Phunny Fellows, King Owa, etc.; night, gorgeously illuminated street parade of the world-famous "Mickie Kewee of Comus."

"For excursion tickets and further information apply to Station Ticket Agent."

LINTON.

I will give you a sketch of this part of the country.

The health of the community is very good, only one death in the last month or two. Mr. Tom Turner died with pneumonia last week.

Dr. Johnson and family, from Clarksville, have moved to their farm near Canton, on the river.

Mr. Morgan Hopson and Miss Dossie, left long since for Clarksville as students.

The charming young lady Miss Ida McNichols is teaching school here. The firm of Whitlock & McNichols have dissolved partnership in the mercantile business.

The river has been very high this winter, and boats have had plenty to do. They have been delayed some time on account of ice.

This part of the country is very rough; the lands are very productive, but we need a few of Christian county's energetic farmers to till the soil of Cumberland river bottoms.

Linton is a business point; we have three dry-goods stores, one grocery, two saloons, a drug store and a hotel.

Dr. Johnson's son from Washington city was in our town on a visit to his parents a short time since; has returned.

Mr. and Mrs. Combs, of Church Hill neighborhood, were down last week on a visit to Mr. J. W. Dawes.

MACEDONIA.

The farmers have been busy stripping their tobacco for the past few days.

Mr. Dave P. Poole's little child fell head foremost into the fire a few days since and was seriously burnt.

Wanted, to swap a half dozen shorn sheepskins for a pair of good gentle stitts.

While carrying a very heavy stick of wood a few days since Mr. Baker of the tax assessor of Clarksville fell and smashed his head very badly.

Mrs. Jue Conner died at the residence of Mr. Columbus Gladish near Castleberry church last Friday. She died of pneumonia.

Another hymenial item in Caldwell. At the residence of the bride's father near Friendship, Mr. W. C. Rucker to Miss Nancy C. Robinson.

Miss Mary Otis, of this place who has been a ghastly victim of the dreadful consumption for several years, we regret to say is very low down. We fear she will not last long.

ONCE IN 200 YEARS.

The Knoxville Chronicle has discovered that the year 1900 will be leap year, and yet February will contain but twenty-eight days. This phenomenon occurs only once in 200 years, and always in the odd hundred.

MR. EDITOR:

We are not of a very literary turn of mind, but events accumulate on us to such an extent that we are compelled to give vent to them, and as such we have such a happy medium (your most excellent paper) through which to give the dear people the benefit of our penicillings, we can hold in no longer.

The dry goods business in our town has been considerably paralyzed by the death of our oldest merchant, Mr. Joe Brane, on January 5th. His emporium for dry goods has been draped in mourning since. The death of our old and tried merchant has cast a gloom over our little town that time alone can dispel.

Since our last Mr. L. R. Allen, late of Beverly has opened up a first class dry goods and grocery house here. We heartily welcome him into our midst. As an evidence of the spirit of enterprise that's within the man, he has demonstrated it by adding to our already increased population in a short time after his arrival; it's a fine boy.

There will be a good deal of tobacco put up here this season. In addition to the Brane & McGee factory Mr. W. W. Craw has opened up one on corner of Main and Yellow streets and is daily receiving the weed.

Our old friend J. B. Pollard, the prince of jokers, still keeps a full stock of notions and groceries; it's said he keeps the best liquor south of Louisville or west of Cincinnati.

There's no talking like knowing how it is yourself, is it Squire?

We are sorry to chronicle the death of Arthur Quisenberry, (a man of color) nevertheless a good mechanic and a useful citizen. Many who have known him will be sorry to learn of the fact.

Farmers are unusually far behind with their business on account of the weather. There have been very few plant beds burnt. The wheat crop is considerably damaged by the freeze.

We were at the closing exercises of Prof. N. M. Edwards' school at Sunny Slope, two miles north of Bennettstown, Friday evening, and were highly edited by the proceedings. The children did credit both to themselves and their teacher.

ENGLISH FEMALE BITTER.—As a powerful tonic and female regulator, this combination stands almost alone. It is decidedly the most valuable female medicine ever offered the public and is held in high esteem throughout the country. It cures female weakness, monthly suppressions, painful periods, relieves the liver, imparts tone to the impoverished blood, strengthens the debilitated, invigorates the body and restores to health.

Will Hawkes, of Nashville, spent several days in the city last week.

Mr. H. C. Herndon, of Princeton, was in the city one day last week.

Messrs. J. H. Fowler and J. C. Cobb, of Paducah, were in the city Sunday.

Jno. E. Campbell has returned from Greenecastle, Ind., where he has been at school.

Mr. Robt. Holloway, of Colorado, was in the city last week visiting friends.

Mr. G. H. Baillie and wife, and Miss Jennie Bennett were the guests of the Phoenix last week.

Mr. F. D. McVitty, of Nashville, was in the city last week in the interest of the piano house of Jesse French.

Hon. M. C. Givens, of Webster county, was in the city several days last week.

Mrs. Smith, of Little Rock, mother of Rev. M. O. Smith, arrived in the city Saturday on a visit to her son.

Prof. J. B. Fitzhugh, of the Southern part of the county, was in the city Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Katie McDaniel has gone to Benoitstown to teach school at Equinox, T. Coleman's.

Dr. E. C. Hareless and Mr. H. F. McGuire, of Trenton, came down to attend the show Thursday night.

Howe Wallace returned Saturday from Louisville, where he has been attending medical school for some months past.

Dr. J. P. Callum, wife and daughter, of Hot Springs, Ark., were at the Phoenix last Thursday, en route for Bellevue, to visit the family of Dr. E. R. Callum.

Mr. J. Fletcher Dempsey swept down on the city one day last week and returned to Madisonville before half of his friends could catch a glimpse of him.

Miss Lizzie Leavelle, of Pembroke, has spent several weeks with the family of Capt. Abernathy, left last week to pay a visit to friends in Clarksville.

Our young friends David and Henry Frankel returned home Friday night after a trip of two weeks or more to Chicago and other cities. Glad to see you back boys. Hope you enjoyed yourselves.

SEVERE BLIZZARD.

The Wind Gets on a High.

At a few minutes past four o'clock Wednesday afternoon, a short but destructive storm passed over a portion of this city tearing things up generally. The storm came from the southeast, and so far as we have been able to learn the following is a list of the buildings most seriously damaged. The residences of Frank Bradshaw, on Maple Street, and Dr. Wm. Hill, on Main Street, were unroofed. The tin roof of Geo. O. Thompson's furniture store was torn off and buried into the street. The funeral procession of Mrs. E. J. Sharpe was passing at the time and the debris came in a few feet of falling on some of the vehicles. The horses hitched to two of them took fright and ran, smashing up the carriages, from which the ladies had been hurriedly helped in the midst of the tornado.

The lively stable of J. M. Hopkins was partly unroofed, and a tobacco steamer near the jail was blown down. Wm. Cowan's stable was blown down, with a man and three horses hit, and almost by a miracle they escaped comparatively unharmed.

A great many fences were blown down, chimneys tops blown off and windows shaken out. The damage will probably amount to several thousands of dollars. The storm was accompanied and followed by a drenching rain.

Burglars About.

The residence of Mr. H. C. Gant was entered by burglars Wednesday night and about $100 worth of valuable silverware stolen. Some of the pieces were bridal presents to his wife and were very highly prized. The house was entered through the dining room window. An attempt was also made to enter the dwelling of Mr. Newton Payne in a similar manner Thursday night, but the accomplices were discovered and frightened off before they accomplished their purpose.

A Card.

Upon the reading of a poem (?) (written by me) to some of my friends, I am informed that a report is scattered over town that I was extremely personal and insulting to Mr. H. G. O'Neill. This report is unfounded by the facts, and Mr. O'Neill informs me that my lines have been construed in a manner unjust to him and to myself. This I regret very much and disclaim any responsibility for such misconstruction. The "sunshine as black as a crow" has been made three black crows, and that such was the case was not my intention. If Mr. H. G. O'Neill has been reflected on by the report, I am not the luminary from which the rays emanated that were so reflected.

R. W. MERRY.

HERE AND THERE.

Farmers you can get your wagons filled with Empire coal at West & Yancey's from this date on.

The backbone of winter is not yet broken.

The weather last week was as changeable and fickle as the average girl.

All kinds of farm work has been greatly retarded by the continued bad weather.

Miss Kate Claxton in the "Two Orphans" Thursday night, at Mozart Hall.

Yesterday was St. Valentine's day and a cold one it was, for the mating business.

There were fifty-six names registered at the Phoenix Hotel on last Thursday. Mr. Cooper doesn't run one of your small sized hotels.

Circuit court is moving along pretty well. Judge Grace resumed the bench yesterday after being sick for two or three days.

Judge Jno. R. Grace was taken sick last week and Judge J. I. Landas was elected to fill his place for the remainder of the week.

The grand jury is getting in some pretty good work. Several indictments have been found and there is a disposition to pry into matters generally.

W. C. Collier, of Nashville, Tenn., has an advertisement in this week's paper, of his staple and fancy groceries. Send him an order by way of trial; he assures you satisfaction.

The many friends of Mr. A. H. Fleming, in this city, will be pleased to learn that he has been appointed agent for the Southern Express Co., at Fulton, and has entered upon the discharge of his duties.

Money has been raised by subscription to purchase school books for such children as are too poor to buy them, so that they may attend the public schools. Those children who are unable to buy books can, therefore, obtain them by applying to Messrs. S. M. Harrison, J. A. Young or H. Blumenshtel.

We call special attention to the advertisement of Burns & Co. dealers in saddlery and coach hardware, found in another column. This is one of the oldest and most reliable firms in Nashville, and we recommend them to be all right in every particular. A first class stock of the goods advertised always in store.

Read, in another column, the advertisement of the Willard Hotel Lottery. The distribution of prizes, a list of which is published in another column will come off April 7th.

Messrs. Turner and Cooper are its agents for this place and will supply tickets to those desiring them. Invest and try your luck.

The jail was guarded by a posse of twenty men last week, some of Mr. Bell's friends fearing that the friends of Pool would attempt violence.

We don't think there was much danger of such a thing but it did no hurt to take the precaution.

Our wish for news last week seems to have been gratified. This week's paper will be found as full of news as an egg is of meat. There was also a perfect rush of letters and many of them could not possibly be inserted. Those left over will be published next week, or such parts of them as will keep.

Messrs. Cowan, Huggins & Hart have a conspicuous advertisement in today's paper. They have gone into the grocery, implement and seed business, and farmers will find it decidedly to their interest to patronize them. They will be glad to see their friends at their stand in the Ford Block, Nashville Street.

By reference to our advertising column this week you will find an advertisement of Herman, Winter & Co., of Nashville, Tenn. This enterprising firm was established about the first of the year, having a new house and new stock of goods. However, some of its members had been in the dry-goods line in Nashville for some years previous. They want to build up a trade in southwestern Kentucky and we cannot see why a house so near should not be liberally patronized by our citizens. We bespeak for them a fair trial.

The South-Kentuckian does not propose to set itself up in opposition to the law in regard to colored jurors. We regret that things have come to such a pass, but the law allows them the privilege of sitting upon juries and we see no good reason why they should not be allowed to do so if they are properly qualified. There are some colored men who have education and these should be chosen to represent their race upon juries. We believe there ought to be an educational and intellectual standard of qualification for jurors, irrespective of color.

The opening of the Public Schools last week was very satisfactory to both teachers and patrons. About 375 pupils matriculated during the week and still others will start this week. There is no doubt that the number will reach 400 by the first of March and if the schools are conducted as well as we have every reason to believe they will be, there will be at least 600 at the beginning of the next session. Prof. Dietrich is the right man in the right place, and under his care the schools are bound to be a success. The whole faculty so far, bid fair to give entire satisfaction in their several departments, and everybody is highly pleased with the way the schools have opened.

ANOTHER HOMICIDE.

Alex Pool Shot by John F. Bell.

After the minstrel performance was over Thursday night a deadly shooting affair occurred near Hall's saloon, on Bridge street.

Frank and John Bell, living in the southern part of the county, were among those who attended the show, and at the conclusion of the performance they, with several other young gentlemen, repaired to Gus Hall's restaurant. There they met Alex Pool, and Frank Bell got into a quarrel with him about some trivial matter. Hall made the whole crowd go out and Pool started to go home.

At the door however he was met by several other negroes who volunteered their assistance to help him. Bell, several of them started towards Frank when he and John both drew pistols and told them to stand back. Some of them grappled Frank and John, and a friend of Pool's, who was with him, wrenched his pistol from him and remarked "Boys you all fix that one I'll attend to this one," or words to that effect. Pool then advanced on John holding a rock in his hand, according to Bell's statement, and continued to advance threateningly, although Bell told him to stand back.

When in the act of striking him Bell fired and then turned and ran. The ball took effect in Pool's left side, just above the hip bone. The latter pursued Bell to the corner of Main and Bridge streets where he fell and expired in a few minutes. John Bell ran to a friend's, mounted a horse and escaped to his father's at Garrettsburg, where he was captured the next morning by deputy sheriff Breathitt and Moore. Frank Bell was arrested and placed in jail and the next day was tried and released on $1000 bond. Jno. Bell waived examination and was put in jail.

A coroner's inquest was held over the body of Pool on Friday morning and the following verdict rendered: "We, the jury, find the body before us to be that of Alex Pool, a man of color, and further find that he came to his death on the night of February 10, '81, in Hopkinsville, Ky., from a pistol shot which took effect in his left side, and further find that the shot which killed Pool, was fired by Jno. F. Bell."

Alex Pool, the man killed, was a well-known barber of this city, about 45 years old. He was ordinarily a quiet and orderly man and when he left the saloon would no doubt have gone home, but for the others who induced him to renew the quarrel.

Jno. F. Bell who did the shooting is a young man about 21 years old, a son of Capt. C. D. Bell, of this county, and a fine gentleman of great popularity among his acquaintances. When at school he invariably bore of the first honors of his classes and intellectually he has few equals in the county. During an intimate acquaintance of several years with him this is the first time we ever knew him to be engaged in a law of any kind. The affair is a very melancholy one, viewed from all its sides and viewed to God it had never happened.

A good many letters are left over this week. So many came in that it was impossible to insert them all. Correspondents should endeavor to write at regular intervals as much as possible, say twice a month, and by alternating we could get in all of their letters the week they are written. Last week scarcely any letters came in, while this week it seems that every correspondent wrote one. Every other week is as often as we want letters from the same correspondent, unless something of unusual interest comes. When there are two reporters in the same neighborhood they must arrange between themselves and not write the same week. We are proud of our correspondents and want to give them all a fair showing.

Judge Joe McCarroll was so unfortunate as to fall and break his leg Saturday night. The streets were very slick and while walking on a plank walk with his wife he slipped and fell, breaking both bones of his leg just above the ankle.

The firm of Terry & Tillow made an assignment last week to Mr. M. W. Griesam.

Dr. Keens being absent Rev. J. F. Hardwick preached at the Baptist church Sunday morning and evening.

Rev. Jno. C. Chastain will preach at Elgin School-house next Sunday, 20th inst.

DEATHS.

SHARPE: At her residence in this city, Monday Feb. 7th, at 8 o'clock P. M., Mrs. E. J. Sharpe, widow of Col. F. C. Sharpe, deceased, in the 81st year of her age. She was one of the oldest and most honored and respected ladies of the city. She had been living in this city for 63 years and left a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn her death.

TANDY: At the residence of his parents in this city Thursday 11th inst., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. T. Tandy. This the rude hand of death has snatched from the loving parents their only child. They have the condolence of many sympathetic friends.

WEST: At the residence of his mother in this city, Thursday last, Willie, infant son of Mrs. Wm. West.

MURPHY: At his residence in this city, Saturday 11th inst., Jos. R. Murphy aged about 40 years. His death was caused from hemorrhage of the lungs. He had been engaged in the sewing machine business here for several years.

AMUSEMENTS.

Miss Kate Claxton who is known far and wide as an actress of more than ordinary merit will play at Mozart Hall Thursday 17th inst. The mere announcement is enough to draw a good house. The Boston Herald speaks of her in the following complimentary terms:

"Few dramas have the picturesque strength of the 'Two Orphans,' and fewer still are the actresses who can so completely and forcibly portray the sufferings of the central character as Kate Claxton who, last evening, again appeared before the Boston audience at the Globe Theater."

Tickets for sale at Gish & Garsner's at the usual prices.

CHARLOTTE THOMPSON.

Miss Thompson played Monday night the 7th inst. to a good house, one of the best of the season. She gave general satisfaction in the "Planner's Wife" and should the return again she will be cordially welcomed.

ARLINGTON'S MINSTRELS.

This company played Thursday night last to the largest house of the season. Somehow or other our people were hungry for a minstrel show and turned out en masse. They did a paying business and while better companies of the kind have been here, they gave pretty good satisfaction.

NOTICE.

We have been appointed by the City Council to vaccinate all persons in the city who are not protected from smallpox by previous vaccination.

We will commence on Wednesday Feb. 16, to visit all the residences in the city between the hours of 10 A. M. and 4 P. M. of each day to vaccinate such persons as required by law.

F. H. CLARK, M. D.
JAS. A. YOUNG, M. D.

Bethel Female College.

Prof. Steinhagen's Friday morning lecture was of unusual interest. He first gave a brief sketch of the life and writings of one of the bright English lights in the literary world, Thomas Carlyle, who died recently in London, at the advanced age of 88 years. He was buried at Westminster.

Next was given a review of the latest movements in Ireland and England, showing the increasing interest in the great question "Shall Ireland be liberated?"

He then referred to the great extent to which engineering had been carried in this country, stating that Capt. Eads, had received an appropriation from the government for the commencement of the great Inter-Oceanic Railway. It is to be tested with a vessel of 4,000 tons. If successful, similar appropriations are to be made from time to time.

Prof. Belmont's lecture, to the Normal class, on Wednesday evening, was both instructive and entertaining. The subject treated was Language, showing the proper method of teaching aboriginals, so as to avoid hesitations in reading, ungrammatical and other errors so common in country schools, and difficult to be corrected.

Prof. Rust, who has been indisposed for the past week, is now able to be up.

Miss Crabtree, of Clarksville, Tenn., paid her cousin, Miss Lillie Waller, a visit Monday evening.

The last exercises of the Lotus Literary Society were very entertaining. The terms of the present officers having expired, the following young ladies were elected in their stead: Bettie English, President; Lillie Woodruff, Vice President; Imogene Courtney, Secretary.

Judge M. O. Givens, of Dixon, Ky., who was in the city on legal business, spent Friday night at the College and honored the Society by his presence.

CADIZ.

Matrimonial bill blank; health of community good; rainy weather, consequently news scarce.

Quite a number of our citizens, among whom were some of the members of the Cadiz, left for Hopkinsville the first of the week.

Still the acquittal of murderers in our proud old Commonwealth goes on. We wait to hear from Christian.

The jail here has four inmates. The ones are small, and it will soon be vacant again.

The preachers are lecturing on the "drinking habit," while the streets are being lighted by the saloon lamps. The boats are no longer barred by the lock and the transportation between this place and Canton has been quite lively during the past week.

The names of candidates for '82 in this county have not exceeded thirty-five as yet; however there are several districts yet to hear from. Col. H. A. Burnett, the able Representative of Trigg, will doubtless have no opposition this year.

The proceedings of the meeting held by the members of the contemplated Press Association a few evenings since have not been rumored much. Blown over again is the pre-supposition.

A gentleman of this town after reading a notice of his being in Hopkinsville last week from "Trigg county," observed, why did not the editor have it, "was in Christian from Trigg?"

A young lad of Cadiz refused to accompany a circus because he could not get the "deal in refined liquor." This is an entirely new temperance movement here, but would certainly prove an effective one should her admirable resolutions be generally adopted.

The Cadiz barber has a mania for fox hunting, and every morning he awakes the natives by an extended performance on his ox horn. He can sound it to accord with the howl of any dog from the terrier up, and never fails to receive a vigorous response from all the species with in hearing. A barber in his place of business is useful in a town like Cadiz; but a hunter's horn, a hungry hound are nuisances in any town.

Little River is beginning, and should it continue at this stage, the long talked of appropriation would be unnecessary.

County court next Monday and a revival in trade especially on Jockey street.

DRESS.

A great many drummers are in the city.

The exports of Leaf Tobacco to Great Britain during the month of January were 500 hogheads; to Bremen, 330 hogheads; including steamers to Antwerp, 263 hogheads; to Spain 361 hogheads.

John & Gough states that the only time he was ever overcome by embarrassment while addressing an audience happened in Providence many years ago. He was addressing an audience of children on the subject of good habits, and taking off his hat to lead in three cheers for cold water, scattered a lot of cigars, which had been given him, among the little ones. This was bad enough, but his discomfort was completed by a little boy of a boy creeping up on the platform and handing him one of the cigars which he had picked up.

GUAYMAS, MEXICO, Feb. 9, 1881.

This quaint old town in Sonora, Mexico, is located on the east shore of the Gulf of California and has a harbor, landlocked and sheltered from the sea with approaches through channels between the island of Los Hornos, San Vicente, and Los Hornos. The old and distinctive features of this strange old town, are so peculiar that I have been tempted to give you readers some idea of its location, its future possibilities, and something of the ante-diluvian habits of its city dwellers.

I came down from Frisco on a very comfortable coastwise steamer which touches here about once a month, carrying a few passengers and a light cargo of goods. We anchored one bright morning in the harbor, and while we were waiting for the tugboats to come out to meet us, I took a walk in the wild and romantic surroundings of this port, so soon to become a great commercial entrepot in the American Australian trade.

Lazy Yaqui Indians were plying their vocation on every hand, catching fish of many varieties, the average of crabs, lobsters and oysters that are found in great abundance.

THE TOWN OF GUAYMAS nestles at the end of its quiet and secure harbor, surrounded on three sides by high bluff mountains. The opening into the ocean, the average high rugged cliff is about five miles from the city, and within this strait the bay widens so as to furnish what has been well termed the mo-tacure harbor on the Pacific. About half a mile from the town an island divides the inner from the outer harbor, and it is on this island that the Southern terminus of the great Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe is located. Here are the immense wharves and unlimited dockage, where the heaviest men-of-war can anchor in safety.

Beyond the island, landward, the water is much shallower, the average depth being but about nine feet, while on the seaward side there is a depth averaging thirty feet. The railroad reaches its terminus by a long bridge from the Eastern shore, and will be able to transport freight to the steamer docks.

After some little delay at the custom-house, we walked over to the "American hotel," and I am free to say that it is the oddest looking building in the world enjoying that universal name; a low square adobe building, surrounded by a court or plaza, and upon floors and small windows, and low ceilings, are striking novelties. After a lunch my friend and I sauntered through the town, which carries the Mexican stamp upon its face. The buildings are all of adobe, built one story high, and better than the others, than those in Mexico. In fact, some of them were highly ornamental. As we neared the public square, or plaza, we found a gay scene awaiting us. The native band from the garrison were playing a medley of Spanish airs, and the plaza was filled with ladies, young and old, in gay costumes, who promenade without escorts, their natural protectors standing outside the circle and bowing here and there as they recognized acquaintances. It was a very pretty sight to an American unused to such scenes. I found upon becoming better acquainted, that

THE INHABITANTS are divided into three classes, the "Upper Ten" being the Spanish merchants whom I found refined and educated and with an elegant facility about them. They are often jockeying among our own aristocracy.

The middle class are the native Mexican and the lower, the Yaqui Indians, who have been largely employed in grading the road between Hermosillo and Guaymas. I was astonished to find what we termed slaves (here called peonage) is in full vogue. If a man becomes in debt to another for $10 he is placed in absolute servitude until it is paid, and as wages vary from 10 to 45 cents a day, a man who once gets behind $10 is hopelessly involved.

Perhaps the most noticeable characteristic of Guaymas is the evident aversion and hostility to anything which favors of progression. In transporting cargoes from the wharf to the custom house and thence to the business houses, no drays or wagons are allowed to be used, because it takes away the labor of the men who "push" everything on their backs, and in carrying water from the large well which supplies the town the same law is in vogue, and a movement to bring the water into the town by pipes was instantly squelched by the authorities. I made considerable inquiry about these mountainous and towering the town, but nothing seems to have been developed in them as far as is concerned. Back further, however, from the coast there are many mines being worked, which are paying splendidly and many more are deserted ones where shafts were put down from 300 to 500 feet by the Spaniards years ago, but which now contains more or less water. In those early years these mines were destitute of pumps and proper appliances necessary to free the shafts from water and many excellent mines were destroyed by flooding. These abandoned mines have all reverted to the government and can be bought for a nominal sum. I see here a rich field for some enterprising companies, for with our modern hydraulic pumps these mines could be emptied at a comparatively small expense.

When the A. T. & S. F. shall have completed its line down thro' this rich mineral country, I prophesy an emigration of miners and business men such as has never been known in the West, for these certainly are rich and promising fields for the just, prospector. The climate here in winter is (to express it in a single word) perfect, although in the town during the summer months the thermometer ranges pretty high, owing to the mountains keeping out the sea breeze. Living is comparatively cheap and comfortable, and from all accounts everybody is as healthy here as anywhere.

A Chicago man's nightmare turned out to be the shadow of his wife's foot on the bed-room wall, instead of an unearthly monster with five horns.

A German lost his wife, and the next week married again, and his new wife asked him to take her out riding. He replied, "You didn't ride out with mine, did you?"

The poor and humble, alike with the rich and powerful, find in Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup a true, tried and trusted friend. Price 25 cents a bottle.

The God's Lady's Book for February.

It is really a household treasure. Besides its rich array of Steel Plates, Colored Fashion Plates and Engravings illustrating many varieties of ladies' and children's dresses, there is an intensely interesting novel, a good feast of stories and sketches, work department for ladies, amusement for children, and the very reliable Chat on Fashion which has distinguished this old favorite magazine for so many years. Every number of the Lady's Book for 1881 will contain a complete novel, and all will be equal to the one in the February number, the subscribers will get the full value of their money in the novels alone, to say nothing of the other strong and commendable features of the Lady's Book. We will receive subscriptions at this office, and furnish God's Lady's Book and the South-Kentuckian for only $3.50 per annum.

Boasting a Manager.

Mr. Henry C. Jarrett tells the following story. One evening, while the party were playing at the Opera House in Detroit, a small boy approached him and holding out his hand, exhibiting fifteen cents, said:

"Please, mister, I would so much like to see Cinderella, but that's all the money I've got."

The boy's manner touched Jarrett's tender spot, and after asking him two or three times if that was all the money he had, and receiving each time a pitiful affirmative answer, he gave him a quarter. The boy's countenance beamed with delight, and he did not know how to express his gratitude. Finally moving toward the street, he said:

"You don't know how thankful I am, sir. I am ever so much obliged to you. I guess I'll go to the other theatre and see 'Jack Sheppard.'"

EMERSON BOOS, of Eighth Avenue, New York, are out on business with the New York Premium List of Emmer's FASHION QUARTERLY for 1881; and it is astonishing to see what ample inducements they are able to offer to canvassers. Their system of combination subscriptions and subscription premiums is highly ingenious, and renders it possible for an energetic canvasser to obtain a handsome cash remuneration for his or her labor. Among the new premiums are some very beautiful illuminated Scripture Tablets and Cards, which will be appreciated by all interested in Sunday School and Church work.

Accompanying the Premium List is an interesting pamphlet entitled "Shopping in New York," which gives an animated description of the system and economy of a great New York store, as well as an illustrated list of a host of articles of general necessity, which may be ordered by mail or express. A genuine novelty, introduced for the first time in this pamphlet, is the system of furnishing unmade dresses in certain styles, of which illustrations are given. For a fixed price, the purchaser receives the pattern and the entire material for making up, including lining, sewing silk, buttons, and, in short, everything but the needle and thimble. The advantage of this system, to a lady who wishes to do her own sewing, is obvious.

The two pamphlets can be obtained by sending a postal card with the address to Emmer Bros., 285 to 295 Eighth Avenue, New York.

Women, girls and boys, all prefer Day's Ague Tonic because it is pleasant, does not contain quinine, produces no deafness and never was known to fail.

The Kentucky editors who spent a part of last summer at White Sulphur, Va., Springs, have not yet determined where they will go the coming season—perhaps to the sea-shore, or it may be to Winchester, Ky.—[Georgetown Times.]

ENGLISH FEMALE BITTERS.—An powerful tonic and female regulator, this combination tonic almost alone. It is decidedly the most valuable female medicine ever offered the public and is held in high esteem throughout the country. It cures female weakness, monthly suppression, irregular menstruation, the hysterical, imparts life to the impoverished blood, strengthens the debilitated, invigorates the body and restores to health.

A lady of our acquaintance has been in quite feeble health for many years—with some constant peculiar trouble, and has been almost—lost her appetite—was melancholy—sleepless—cross and fretful. Many years of suffering and many doctors were a failure. There has been spent over $1000 without relief. She was advised to try English Female Bitters. She bought a bottle and used it as directed and seven bottles effected a cure.

15 Pounds Gained in Three Weeks. Means, Craddock & Co., 1025 Race St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Geatlemen.—Please send me twelve bottles of Dr. H. JAMES' LAMARCA'S EMERALD, one each of Pills and Ointment, for a friend of mine who is not expected to live, and as your medicine cured me of Consumption some three years ago, I want to try it for my friend. I gained fifteen pounds while taking the first three bottles, and I know it is just the thing for him.

This remedy speaks for itself. One bottle will satisfy almost any case. It is not a single symptom of Consumption that it does not dissipate at once, and it will break up a fresh cold in 24 hours. It is $2.50 per bottle. Address CRADDOCK & CO., 1025 Race St. Philadelphia, Pa. MAY 11 '80.
